A Xerox Company

Local Tech Company's Holiday Drive Supports Indy's Trafficked Children and Their Path to Recovery.

Indianapolis, In – Friday, November 30th, Now that the Thanksgiving Turkey has been devoured and families have started their travels back home, it's apparent that the holiday season is upon us and with it comes the best of tidings, a warm hearth and the spirit of giving. One only has to open their eyes and look around to find a cause worthy of their support this season.

Integrity One Technologies, a wholly owned subsidiary of Xerox Corp (XRX) announces its third annual Holiday Drive, occurring Nov 30th -Dec 17th this year. The technology company has teamed up with Ascent 121, a non-profit based out of Indianapolis that works to supports Hoosier Children who have been victimized by Human (Sex) Traffickers in the state.

Integrity One will be working to collect goods as well donations to fulfill the organization's Christmas Wish List in addition to supporting their awareness & education efforts using #IOTHelpThemSoar.

A lunch and learn awareness event is also being hosted Dec 5th at Integrity One's Corporate Headquarters at Park Fletcher. Diane Good, Community Development Coordinator of Ascent 121 will be speaking to IOT's associates and guests to discuss how human sex trafficking effects children and families in Indianapolis as well as ways Integrity One's associates can help get victims back on a path towards success.

"Working with organizations who truly make a difference in the lives of our community is a passion of Integrity One's. We hope to add one small piece of support to the overall picture of getting these children rehabilitated and back on a path towards a prosperous future." Sam Castiglione, President of Integrity One Technologies said in the organization's announcement Friday.

The collection of goods and monetary donations will be accepted by all Integrity One office locations through Dec 17, 2018 with all of the items and proceeds benefiting Ascent 121.
